1. Introduction

Exciting isn't it? In 2018, we are embarking on a whistle-stop two-week holiday to 2 countries bordering on the Caribbean: Mexico and Cuba. These are both countries on my personal bucket-list of places to go to so I am excited to be doing this!

I decided to produce this eBook to both practice what I already knew about creating these things and to make sure I recorded somewhere all of the stuff that I had found out and needed to pass on or remember. Who knows - maybe this can act as a template for future holiday stuff?

This eBook is divided into 3 main sections, namely:

- Stuff to read about and do before we go,
- The trip itself, and
- Coming home at the end

If I think of any other stuff I'll put it into appendices at the end. So, without further ado, let's crack on!

2. Before We Go

Well before we start our trip, there are a few things to think about and do. I have split these up as follows:

- Background: why we are going at this time of year, weather, distances etc.
- Health: what we need to do before we go (in terms of inoculations, tablets etc.)
- Travel: what our outbound long-haul flight details are, any considerations about time left on passports etc.
- Money: what the local currencies are, advice from journey planners re use of credit cards etc.

I have also included as an Appendix what I envisage packing for the trip (excluding clothing - I am sure everyone can make up their own minds about clothing!).

Background

Both Mexico and Cuba have coastline with the Caribbean. The Caribbean area is warm for most of the year (the Gulf Stream kick starts here) so temperatures are generally pleasant, but it is humid at times. Additionally, this area suffers each year from a period of high hurricane probability, generally from August through to mid-November.

Takling this into account, and taking advice from the major tourist web sites, we are timing our holiday just after the hurricane season finishes and just before temperatures rise. This is also the best time to visit as it precedes the major tourist season from late December through April. We fly out of the UK on Friday 23rd November and return on Sunday 9th December.

Health

Do check with your GP about what innoculations they advise for your personal circumstances for this trip. They will normally check for whether you are up to date with vaccines for cholera, typhoid, Hepatitis A and Tetanus - I had to have a tetanus jab and a Hepatitis A one as well (because I only had a combined Hep A + B jab when we travelled to Vietnam and Cambodia which only lasts for a short time).

Make sure and get them to bring your vaccination record card up to date an store it soemwhere safe.

Our GP surgery also gave me two web sites to check:

- National Travel Health Network and Centre , and
- Fit For Travel

I did ask about rabies and malaria. Although both countries are tropical, malaria risk is classed as Low and Hampton GP's are not recommending a course of malaria tablets for our visit. The risk of rabies is roughly the same for Cuba/Mexico as it was for Vietnam/Cambodia. The rabies jab does not offer full protection anyway; it just delays the progress of rabies if you have been bitten until you can get to some proper medical facilities. That being the case, we may do the same as we did for Vietnam/Cambodia - not have the rabies jab - and remain careful while on holiday around animals.

The tour company did mention about having an up-to-date Yellow Fever vaccination record or you might not get back into the UK but the Hampton Surgery dismissed that - see what your own GP's say where you are.

Travel

Mexico and Cuba are in different time zones:

- Mexico - GMT -6 hours
- Cuba - GMT -5 hours

We are travelling significant distance during this holiday, both by air and by road. The table below shows the main travelling and what the distances involved are for each major trip. (if I have time before we go I'll put in a summary table showing comparative holiday travelling for other long-haul holidays as well)

Air Journey	Distance (miles)
London to Oaxaca via Mexico City Flight AM0008 from London Heathrow to Mexico City  Depart: 2230, Arrive: 0420 on 24th November Flight AM2046 from Mexico City to Oaxaca  Depart: 0605, Arrive: 0720	5819
Oaxaca to Merida via Mexico City Monday 26th November Flight AM2047 from Oaxaca to Mexico City  Depart: 0810, Arrive: 0925 Flight AM0515 from Mexico City to Merida  Depart: 1135, Arrive: 1328	1101
Chichen Itza to Havana via Cancun Flight AM0449 from Cancun to Havana  Depart: 1354, Arrive: 1512	440
TOTAL air miles	14000

Air Journey	Distance (miles)
Havana to Mexico City Flight AM0452 from Havana to Mexico City Depart: 1505, Arrive: 1720	1108
Mexico City to London Flight AM0007 from Mexico City to London Heathrow Depart: 2340, Arrive: 1555 (on Sunday 9 th December)	5532
TOTAL air miles	14000

N.B. All departure and arrival times are local dont forget about different time zones for Mexico and Cuba.

And also scheduled journeys by road - excluding airport transfers and any we do ourselves:

Road Journey	Distance (miles)
Oaxaca to Monte Alban and Hierve el Agua	98 (circular)
Merida to Chichen Itza	74
Chichen Itza Mayan tour with cenotes	98 (circular)
Chichen Itza to Cancun Airport	126
Havana to Trinidad and return	392
Teotihuacan pyramids and Guadalupe shrine	70 (circular)
Puebla, Tonantzintla and Cholula	182 (circular)
TOTAL air miles	1040

Money

Both Mexico and Cuba have the peso as their unit of currency but they are separate currencies with separate exchange rates, similar to US and Canadian dollars in that respect.

Mexico has a more developed ATM and credit-card capability. Not sure how useful the FairFX card will be - need to check with them. You are recommended to let your bank know that you will be using your card(s) in these countries before you leave.

Current exchange rates (as at Friday 17 August) are:

- Mexican Peso: 24.28 pesos per UK £
- Cuban peso: 1.27 pesos per UK £

Electricity

Both Mexico and Cuba have different electricity supply and plug sockets to the UK. In Mexico the power sockets are of type A and B. The standard voltage is 127 V and the standard frequency is 60 Hz. In Cuba the power sockets are of type A, B, C and L. The standard voltage is 110 / 220 V and the standard frequency is 60 Hz. Pictures of the various socket types are shown below.

Type A Socket

Type B Socket

Type C Socket

Type L Socket

So we will need travel adapters and (maybe) voltage adapters as well so we can have our 4-way blocks plugged in at our various accommodations.

3. The Trip

I have grouped everything below by each of our accommodation destinations and then, each day of the trip is listed in its own mini-section. Where I know these details, I've tried to include times for any travelling we do on the day and the main sights we are seeing. The itinerary has been developed in conjunction with Journey Latin America and the contact details for them are included at the end of the book.

The long-haul travel days are also mentioned in the Before We Go and Coming Home sections of this book.

Day 1 Friday 23rd November UK to Oaxaca

Our flight from London Heathrow is AeroMexico flight number XXXXXX which departs at 2340 from London HeathRow. Check-in must be done by 2140. Each person can have one suitcase (for placing in the hold - maximum 23kg) and one carry-on bag / backpack - normal for long-haul flights.

Day 2 Saturday 24th November Oaxaca

We arrive in Mexico City airport at about 0420 in the morning and have to catch an internal flight to Oaxaca at 0605 (our bags transfer automatically, I think). We then arrive in Oaxaca airport at about 0720 and will be able to check-in to our hotel on arrival.

Oaxaca

Day 2 Saturday 24th November Oaxaca

We are staying in Oaxaca for two nights at the Catrina de Alcala hotel

Afternoon: Half-day private excursion for Oaxacan street food and Mezcal tasting. Need to stay awake for this one as Oaxaca is meant to be one of the culinary highs of Mexico.

Day 3 Sunday 25th November Oaxaca

Full-day private excursion to Monte Alban and Hierve el Agua. Monte Alban are our first experience of Mayan ruins; Hierve el Agua may allow us to bathe in one of the pools if we want (depends on weather and temperature of the water, I suggest!) and the ride to/from Hierve el Agua is meant to be "interesting"!

Merida

Day 4 Monday 26th November Oaxaca to Merida

We are staying for two nights at the Hotel Boutique Casa Lucia in Merida.

Arrive at Merida airport at approx. 1328. Afternoon at leisure after hotel check-in. Possible things to do this afternoon include:

Day 5 Tuesday 27th November Merida

Merida city tour - two to three hour excursion (No start time specified). Need to know this from guide or hotel the day beforehand.

Chichen Itza

Day 6 Wednesday 28th November Merida to Chichen Itza

We are staying for two nights at the Mayaland and Bungalows Hotel in Chichen Itza.

N.B. This is an early start day, leaving at about 0830. Be up early if you want any breakfast!

Two and a half hour road trip to Chichen Itza from Merida, arriving there at around 11am (so leave hotel at about 0830). Private air-conditioned vehicle - lunch included during or before the half-day excursion to Chichen Itza ruins. Chichen Itza is the most famous (with tourists) Mayan ruin enclosure in Mexico so expect crowds.

Day 7 Thursday 29th November Chichen Itza

Main cenotes day!

Ek-Balam & Valladolid with Ik Kil & Samula cenotes.
Full day private excursion.

If we want to, we should be able to climb the main pyramid at Ek Balam and get views all around; Ik Kil and Samula are two of the most photogenic cenotes in the Yucatan and we may be able to briefly swim at one or both :- ) bring your swimming gear!

Our hotel is close enough to the main Chichen Itza ruins if we want to revisit this evening (depending on what time we get back).

Day 8 Friday 30th November Chichen Itza to Havana

N.B. This is a VERY early start day, leaving at about 0800. Again, be up early if you want any breakfast!

Private transfer to Cancun airport leaving at about 0800. Flight from Cancun at 1354 to Havana, arriving at 1512. Transfer to Hotel Inglaterra for 3 nights.

Havana

We are staying for three nights at the Hotel Inglaterra in Havana Old Town. Rest of the first afternoon and evening at leisure. There appear to be a number of coffee shops in the vicinity of the hotel :-)

NOTE: We have been warned that accommodation in Cuba is not likely to be as modern or well provided for as in Mexico but it will be clean and safe. We may have issues with wifi in the hotel so if all else fails see if we can get reception in a local coffee shop :- ) What a hardship!

Day 9 Saturday 1st December Havana

Half-day walking tour of Old Havana - prepare to start early! Most cafes and coffee houses are in the Old Town so smile!

This afternoon we join a shared excursion to the Rum Museum - this is a one hour tour shared with other holidaymakers. Various start times in the day. We need to check with our local guide when this starts and from where.

Rest of the day and evening at leisure - so, walking :-)

Day 10 Sunday 2nd December Havana

Day at leisure in Havana so we need to think of possibilities for the day. Maybe do the Cuban Art Gallery and Christopher Columbus (Colon) cemetery - as they are within 10 minutes walk of each other -; maybe take a taxi to the Hemingway Museum; maybe take a taxi to the El Morro fortress across the bay;

maybe take a taxi just out of Havana along the coast a bit? ( I'll try and come up with some more ideas).

Trinidad

Day 11 Monday 3rd December Havana to Trinidad

Travel by road via the Che Guevara Santa Clara area, photos. Museum not open on Mondays.

After our journey, we check in to our Trinidad homestay and then have a Trinidad colonial city walking tour - a half-day private excursion with lunch included. We will be staying for two nights at the Casa Luis XVIII Homestay in Trinidad. Our evening meal on this first day here at the homestay is included - maybe chance to meet some locals?

Day 12 Tuesday 4th December Trinidad

We have this as a day at leisure in Trinidad to do our own thing. We could take a trip to Cienfuegos or the Bay of Pigs (up the coast); we could check out the coast area in Trinidad and lounge around; we could take a trip out into the countryside or back to Santa Clara if we want to find out more about Che Guevara - lots of options to consider.

Day 13 Wednesday 5th December Trinidad to Mexico City

N.B. This is a long travelling day, with quite an early start. We retrace our road trip back from Trinidad to Havana (5+ hours) and then fly from Havana to Mexico City. Once again, be up early if you want any breakfast!

Mexico City

We will be staying for three nights at the Historico Central in Mexico City. Remainder of this day at leisure.

Day 14 Thursday 6th December Guadalupe

Full day shared excursion to the Teotihuacan pyramids and Guadalupe shrine. No idea about lunch - maybe buy something at one of the places?

Day 15 Friday 7th December Puebla

Full day private excursion to Puebla, Tonantzintla and Cholula. From Cholula, we should get magnificent views of Mexico's largest volcano - Popocatepetl but we probably will not have time to try and climb it :-)

Day 16 Saturday 8th December Mexico City

Our flight today from Mexico City is AeroMexico flight number XXXXXX which departs at 2340. Must do the online check-in for the long haul flight before we leave the hotel. Baggage check-in must be done by 2140. As for the outbound long-haul flight, each person can have one suitcase (for placing in the hold - maximum 23kg) and one carry-on bag / backpack - normal for long-haul flights.

We have a late checkout from our hotel today (around 6pm) so we retain the use of the room up until tea time - good news for freshening up for the long journey home! We will be picked up from the hotel by our airport transfer at any time between 7.30 and 8.00 pm

Day 17 Sunday 9th December UK

We arrive back in the UK at London HeathRow at approx. 3.50pm.

4. Coming Home

Arriving at Heathrow at about 3.50pm, Terminal 4, we will then have to catch our onward transport - Sophie to Bedford and Em coming with us on the coach to Hampton? (I'll update this bit with coach journey times for the three of us who are travelling back to Hampton when I know them.)

6. Appendix 2 Contact Details Agents

The agents helping us plan the holiday this time are: Journey Latin America. Their contact details are shown below.

Contact Details:

- Main liaison: Sophie Barber
Sales Team Supervisor and Senior Travel Consultant, Tailor Made Holidays
- Telephone: 020 8600 1884
- Email:
Sophie.Barber@journeylatinamerica.co.uk
- Address: 401 King Street, London, W6 9NJ

As part of the final itinerary confirmation, we have been given access to the information via an app that can be downloaded from Apple App Store. The app to look for is Vamoos. Ideally, download this to an iPad as the displays are quite big, but it should still work to some degree on an iPhone.

Aftre you have downloaded the app, start it up and you will then need to sign-in to the app to get to our holiday details. Our sign-in details are:

Username: JLA

Password: 358130CAB

The app will offer you the opportunity to download some maps - not OS maps but OK. When connected to wifi, you should do this so that things are still accessible on-the-go.
